What is Hospice?

Central Montana Medical Center Hospice is a program that affirms the dignity of life. It serves people affected by an advanced illness by providing comprehensive, compassionate care while respecting each individual's needs, beliefs, and wishes. Hospice helps patients live comfortably in their final days and assists families to cope with the care and ultimate loss of their loved one. Although it is home centered, hospice care can be provided in a variety of settings.

INTERDISCIPLINARY TEAM

The interdisciplinary team concept for End-of-Life Care includes the following members:

- Chaplains
- Hospice Aids
- Nurses
- Physicians
- Social Workers
- Volunteers

If you think Hospice is an option for you or someone you love, call Central Montana Medical Center Hospice to learn more about our services.

VOLUNTEER SERVICES

Central Montana Medical Center Hospice volunteers are very special! Their work is unique in the fact that they provide support in many ways to our patients and their families.

Hospice volunteers are a vital part of the Hospice Care Team. They serve as helping hands, companions and sympathetic listeners. They assist with patient and family care as well as community outreach, education, and office needs. They also serve as speakers, educators, and help with special events.

Hospice patient care volunteers go through an initial training program and attend educational in-services throughout the year. They must also submit to a drug screening, background check, and provide personal references.

Hospice offers training, at no charge, throughout the year for individuals interested in volunteering. If you need more information, please call (406)535-6302 or mail the attached Volunteer Interest Form.

INTERESTED IN VOLUNTEERING?

Fill out the attached Volunteer Interest Form and mail it in. We will contact you about upcoming training opportunities.
