Lewistown woman praises 3D Mammo for early diagnosis

With a family history of breast cancer, Lynn Loving has been diligent about scheduling her annual mammograms.

She had her last mammogram in December, but this time it was on the new 3D mammography equipment acquired last year by CMMC. Lynn said the upgraded equipment, along with the new state-of-the-art breast biopsy system, quite possibly saved her life.

"After I did the 3D mammo, I got a call from the radiologist that there was something suspicious so I needed a biopsy," Lynn said. She returned to CMMC for her breast biopsy mid-week. "In between, I wasn't really worried. But, I was just floored when my PA Shelley Poss called that Monday and told me it was cancer. It was unimaginable!"

Even though hearing the words "breast cancer" was a shock, Lynn said the good news has been that thanks to the 3D mammography and breast biopsy equipment, the lump was only the size of a BB when it was detected. Because it was caught so early she didn't need a mastectomy, but instead a lumpectomy was performed and is being followed up with radiation.

Her diagnosis was in late December and she recently began three weeks of radiation treatment and is driving five days a week to Benefits in Great Falls.

She was in her first week of treatment when interviewed for this article, and said it was going fine so far. "The fatigue can be brutal though, so it would be amazing if someday patients can stay in Lewistown for all their cancer treatment, including radiation. I'm 57 and don't have children. I can't imagine how difficult the travel would be for someone caring for a family or for the older generation." (Currently, cancer patients can receive chemotherapy, but not radiation.)

Lynn Loving

The 3D mammography and breast biopsy guidance system work in tandem and were acquired by CMMC last year. The Central Montana community has pitched in to raise more than a half million dollars so far to help with the purchase. "Thank you to everyone who has ever donated to help with the needs in our community," Lynn said.

Lynn and her husband, Lance, moved to Lewistown about 15 years ago. Lance works in the IT department at CMMC and Lynn has a pet grooming business, FurryPaws Grooming. She said they love the area and the people who make it a great place.

"I have a strong faith in God," Lynn said. "I never have felt that I wouldn't get through this and it was caught early, so I had faith that I would be taken care. I asked my friends and family for prayer and I know they had me covered. This community has really been there for me."

Lynn has long been a proponent of annual mammograms, and this experience confirmed their importance. "I'm now the fourth generation to get breast cancer on my father's side and the third generation on my mother's," she said.

She added, "I couldn't be more thankful for the resources we have here at CMMC. They have been amazing and made me very comfortable. Our medical professionals are so capable - I trust our facility for great care during a scary time." ❖

CMMC reports on 3D Mammo and Breast Biopsy System statistics

There have been 15 positive breast cancers detected since CMMC installed its new 3D Mammography and Breast Biopsy System last June, according to CMMC Radiology Manager Geri Rector. "If it wasn't for the new mammo unit itself, we likely wouldn't have as many detected."

Michelle Stanton had this to say about her 3D Mammography experience, "It was so nice taking 30 minutes out of my day versus a whole day from work to get my mammo! What an asset to our community!"

Medical Center Foundation Manager Ann Tuss thanks donors for making this possible. "We had a goal to raise $475,000 during the 3D Mammography Capital Campaign and I'm pleased to announce we've exceeded that goal by raising $546,725! To learn more, call Ann at MCF at 406.535.6309. ❖

Thank you to Fergus Federal Credit Union for color sponsorship!

Fergus Federal Credit Union (FFCU) is the generous supporter of the full-color in this edition of The Roundup!

FFCU President Jayme Durbin said he is pleased to help publish this Spring 2021 full-color, glossy newsletter. The Roundup is a joint publication of Central Montana Foundation (CMF) and Central Montana Medical Center Foundation (MCF).

MCF Manager Ann Tuss and CMF Executive Director Carrie Mantooth both expressed their appreciation to FFCU for its sponsorship of the color newsletter and also for its unwavering financial support to local projects.

FFCU is committed to giving back to the community, both through generous financial contributions and volunteerism. As a case in point, FFCU's staff all pitched in to help serve meals during the COVID-19 Pandemic at Council on Aging. "Everyone on our staff volunteered at least once a week, and it was a rewarding experience to know we were making a difference during a time of need," Jayme said.

FFCU staff members are also active volunteers with organizations throughout Central Montana. FFCU's Brian Henderson serves on the CMF Board of Directors and is also a member of the CMF Investment Committee.

FFCU supports a variety of local projects touching many throughout Central Montana. They are long-time supporters of 4-H and its livestock sale, and most recently have donated to Support Our Hometown Heroes, Lewistown Soccer, Supplemental Meals in Lewistown Elementary Schools (SMILES) and Veterans Memorial Park.

Credit unions are a cooperative and as such, owned by its members. Credit unions operate on a non-for-profit basis. FFCU has been around since 1953 and is governed by a seven-person Board of Directors. Jayme went to work for FFCU in 1986, and took over as president just over a year ago.

"Like many FFCU employees, I have deep roots in Central Montana," Jayme said. "FFCU staff and board of directors are committed to doing what we can to make it an even better place to live." ❖

Cody Langbehn is newest Central Montana Foundation director

Cody Langbehn has been appointed by Central Montana Medical Center to serve on Central Montana Foundation's (CMF) Board of Directors. As a native of Lewistown, he's familiar with CMF and its mission to improve Central Montana through its grant-making program and by helping donors make lasting investments in the community.

"I'm honored to help figure out how to help the community develop," he said, noting that this region has a rich philanthropic history. "That generosity has enabled the community to do things that otherwise would not have been possible."

Cody returned to Lewistown in August to accept a position as CEO at CMMC. "I feel so fortunate to come back to my hometown," he said. "Delivering healthcare is so critically important and CMMC is also a big part of the economic engine to help Central Montana grow."

Cody is a graduate of Fergus High School, and went on to earn a bachelor's in healthcare administration from Concordia College in Moorhead, MN, and a master's degree in health administration from Montana State University-Billings.

He has 25 years' experience in healthcare administration including CEO at Pioneer Medical Center in Big Timber; executive director of regional operations at Billings Clinic; CEO at Luke's Wood River Medical Center in Ketchum, ID, and most recently served as vice president and Montana regional director at PacificSource Health Plans in Helena.

Cody is focused on helping CMMC continue to provide high quality access to services. "We're constantly surveying the landscape as to what's next; looking at what services can be provided locally that can help Central Montanans stay close to home." A high profile recent example of adding to CMMC's menu of services is the acquisition of the state-of-the-art 3D mammography unit and breast biopsy system.

Another emphasis is considering how social determinants (access to nutritious food, physical activity, housing, and so on) have an impact on health and quality of life. "The impact of these socio-economic factors aren't outside of the healthcare realm," he noted.

These and other quality of life factors help attract people to the community, Cody said, and both CMMC and CMF have roles in helping make improvements. He's pleased to serve with CMF and said they and the donors supporting local organizations and projects all contribute to helping "the community thrive and not just survive."

Cody and his wife, Lisa, and their two children, Tyler age 12 and Izzy age 10, are enjoying living in Lewistown and looking forward to more opportunities to immerse themselves in local activities. "It was a strange time to transition (due to COVID), but we're excited to be here and do our part to help the community." He said it's important for people to find their passion and contribute; whether through volunteerism or financial support.

CMF President Dean Comes said he and the rest of the CMF Directors are thrilled to welcome Cody to the Board. "Cody's familiarity and love of Central Montana, combined with the skills and experience he brings from his career in the healthcare industry will make him a valuable asset." ❖

CMF offering summer internship!

Central Montana Foundation (CMF) is seeking a part-time summer intern. The ideal candidate is a college student interested in working for a non-profit organization. This is a paid internship from May to mid-August. Please see www.centralmontanafoundation.com for details. Deadline to apply is April 15, 2021. ❖

The public is invited to attend CMF Annual Meeting May 25

Central Montana Foundation (CMF) has granted millions of funds to not-for-profit and tax-exempt organizations for medical, essential services, educational, civic, cultural and recreational projects since it was founded in 1984.

All of the funding for CMF's grant-making activities is from the dividends and interest earned from its unrestricted permanent endowments. The principal remains untouched, providing a source of income into perpetuity!

There are 10 unrestricted endowments, the largest of which is the Mildred Bryte Memorial. Mildred died in 1997 and left the bulk of her more than $3 million estate to CMF. At least 60% of the Bryte income is used to fund major grants at the May annual meeting, which will be held this year on Tuesday, May 25 at noon with a no-host luncheon at the Lewistown Elks Clubhouse.

CMF's Board of Directors consider major grant requests just once per year at the annual meeting, and each applicant will have opportunity to give a short presentation. Other agenda items include reports on 2020 activities and financials and "Friend of the Foundation" presentations. The public is invited and encouraged to attend.

Please RSVP to CMF at 406.538.6130 or email cmtfoundation@midrivers.com. ❖

Two new permanent endowment funds approved by CMF Directors

Central Montana Foundation (CMF) Board of Directors approved two more permanent endowment funds for local organizations in the last few months; welcome to the fold, Inspire Pregnancy Outreach Center and Fergus FFA Alumni!

Inspire Pregnancy Outreach Center

Inspire Pregnancy Outreach Center is committed to helping those who may be facing an unexpected pregnancy or who are just struggling in life while pregnant by mentoring, training and coaching.

Inspire Pregnancy Outreach Center Director Linda Peterson, stresses that they are a Christ-centered, 501(c)(3) organization with a mission to provide support and all of its services are free. "No matter your income, your religion - we're here to love on everybody."

Inspire Pregnancy Outreach Center Director Linda Peterson in the baby boutique.

That acceptance is crucial, as Linda knows first-hand. When she was a 17-year-old in Great Falls, she had an abortion and experienced feelings of shame and regret for many years. All that changed in 2016 when she completed a 12-week program in Great Falls, "Forgiven and Set Free." The study was transformative for Linda, and led first to her volunteering at Inspire, then moving into the director's position. She went on to become a facilitator for the study and the class is offered four times annually. Linda has also felt led to share her story with many audiences. "I need to let other women know that God loves them no matter what."

Inspire's trained coaches help answer questions about the pregnancy and options in order to help the individual decide what's best for them. Linda said Inspire's Board of Directors and volunteers are passionate about showing compassion and acceptance to those who walk in their doors. "I understand how scary it is because I've been there."

The center relocated to 108 6th Ave. No. in Lewistown a few years ago, and Linda said they love the roomy location and appreciate the help from landlord, Paul Ritchey. One of the best things about it is that it's in a discreet location, Linda added. She said teenagers especially don't want to be seen coming in, but the location has a back door for those who are concerned.

Besides support, mentorship and coaching throughout pregnancy and afterwards, Inspire has a well-stocked boutique with new or gently-worn baby and maternity clothing, diapers, strollers, blankets and more. Its "Earn While You Learn" program provides education about pregnancy and baby while watching DVDs and reading books. "Mommy Money" is earned that can be spent in the store. Linda stressed that if someone has a need, there is never a time they will go away empty-handed.

Inspire Pregnancy Outreach Center's Board of Directors decided to pursue a permanent endowment with CMF to provide long-term sustainability for their organization. An endowment is a perpetual fund where the principal remains intact, while the income earned can be spent. Donors can give a tax deductible gift to Inspire by using the giving form on Page 14. For more information about Inspire Pregnancy Outreach Center, call 406.535.3511.

Fergus FFA Alumni

Fergus FFA Alumni are committed to supporting the local chapter, and setting up a permanent endowment with CMF is another way for them to build that financial support.

Fergus FFA Alumni Treasurer Jordan Stilson is the third generation in his family to be involved in FFA and said the program has evolved through the years from being primarily an organization for farm and ranch kids, to a much broader program. "At Fergus, it's the largest in-school extracurricular program," he said. "It teaches great leadership skills and through its Supervised Agriculture Experience (SAE), is broad enough that members can explore a variety of interests."

Fergus FFA Alumni has been around for decades, and has about 20 members. The current president, Robbie Jackson, also comes from an FFA family. They are hopeful that more FFA alumni in the area will volunteer and financially support its mission.

Fergus FFA Alumni was founded primarily to financially assist the Fergus FFA Chapter. "Our goal has been to financially help Fergus students who win the state contest get to the National FFA Convention," Jordan explained. The main source of income for the Alumni is its annual mechanics contest at Fergus, which typically attracts 16 teams with about 160 participants from across the state.

Fergus FFA Alumni have also helped supplement the James Schultz and Dale Godfrey Scholarships held with CMF, awarded annually to a FHS student pursuing an ag-related career.

To learn more about Fergus FFA Alumni, contact Jordan at 406.366.5748. Donors can make a tax deductible gift by using the giving form on Page 14. ❖

Oak Ridge Boys June 5 concert is a go!

The long-awaited Oak Ridge Boys' concert is coming soon!

Central Montana Medical Center Foundation (MCF) Chairman Karen Kuhlmann said, "The Oak Ridge Boys are revving up for their 'ELVIRA 40 YEARS, 2021' national tour. Their benefit concert for CMMC's Radiology Department's 3D Mammogram and Breast Guidance System, Sat., June 5 at 7:30 p.m. promises to be a rompin', stompin' good time. The Oak Ridge Boys never disappoint their audiences."

Less than 150 tickets remain for this stellar evening of phenomenon entertainment. See poster to the right for ticket information. Karen continued, "Just saying. . . . 'Get you ELVIRA on!'" ❖

Anonymous donor gives $50,000 for 3D Mammo capital campaign

An anonymous donor who has ranching ties to Central Montana recently gifted $50,000 to Central Montana Medical Center's (CMMC) 3D Mammography and Breast Biopsy Guidance System Capital Campaign!

Medical Center Foundation (MCF) Manager Ann Tuss said the donor has a history of generous support to CMMC. "This incredible gift has helped us surpass our goal of raising $475,000 to $546,725!" She said the new equipment was installed in June 2020 (the biopsy equipment is on loan from the vendor until it can be paid off) and since then, 890 3D mammography screens have been administered.

She said the entire system, along with the photography displayed in the remodeled room, has been paid for by donations and grants. "Every penny towards this campaign literally helps save lives," Ann said. "I'm very humbled by the overwhelming response we have had to our campaign - through a pandemic none the less!"

CMF and MCF grants total nearly $18,000 over the last quarter

During the last quarter, Central Montana Foundation (CMF) and the Central Montana Medical Center Foundation Advisory Board (MCF) have granted nearly $18,000 to help local projects in Central Montana.

Central Montana Foundation grants include:

• WINNETT VOLUNTEER FIRE DEPARTMENT: This organization received $4,620 for the purchase of six air cylinders for its Self-Contained Breathing Apparatuses (SCBAs).

• FRIENDSHIP LODGE #37: A grant of $1,220 was awarded to help purchase bikes for the local Masonic Friendship Lodge Books for Bikes program. Local K-6 students can read for a chance to be entered in a drawing to give away bikes. About 800 students participate.

• FERGUS JUNIOR CLASS PARENTS AFTER PROM PARTY: A $2,500 grant was awarded to help with prize and expenses for Fergus High School's After Prom Party. The party provides a safe and fun environment and will be held in the FHS gym following prom.

• CUB SCOUT PACK 360: A $677.89 grant (from the Lewistown Boy Scout fund) was awarded for the purchase of trophies, car kits and refreshments for the annual Pinewood Derby event held March 13.

• LEWISTOWN AREA CHAMBER OF COMMERCE: CMF Directors granted $2,500 to help fund the community 4th of July fireworks display.

• JUDITH MOUNTAIN PLAYERS: A COVID-19 Relief grant of $2,465 was awarded to be used for the purchase and installation of a water bottle filling station at the group's facility.

Medical Center Foundation grants include:

• CMMC EMS: A grant of $1,000 was awarded for an audio/visual TV monitor to be used for EMS training; including remote teaching to rural EMS volunteers via telemedicine.

• FERGUS AFTER PROM PARTY: A raffle prize of a First-Aid kit for a car or dorm room was donated for a raffle prize.

• DENTON AMBULANCE: A $2,000 grant was awarded to Denton Ambulance for its capital campaign to raise funds for a 4WD ambulance. Rural ambulance services are essential to CMMC EMS who intercept for emergency transport.

• TRI-COUNTY CRISIS INTERVENTION STRESS MANAGEMENT TEAM (CISM): The organization received $250 for its "Career Survival and Rural First Responder" mental health training course.

• CMMC ACUTE CARE: A grant of $420 will be used for six months of data for computer tablets. With the COVID-19 pandemic, inpatients have been isolated from family and friends. The tablets with internet data allow them to "see" their loved ones. The Jetpack data also eliminates concerns of a breach in security on CMMC's internet server.

For more information about CMF's grant-making program, contact CMF Executive Director Carrie Man-tooth at 406.538.6130. Contact MCF Manager Ann Tuss at 406.535.6309 to learn about CMMC grants. ❖

Boys & Girls Club kids launch “Knots 4 Life” to help CMMC

The kids at Boys & Girls Club of Lewistown have launched a project called “Knots 4 Life,” in which they are making and selling paracord bracelets with a goal of raising $500 for CMMC’s 3D Mammography Campaign.

“I am so excited and proud of these kids and of CMMC for having such a worthy project,” said Boys & Girls Club Resource Development Director Abby Franks.

Abby said Knots 4 Life stemmed from the Club’s pre-teens and teens celebration of the word “grateful” in February. They did a number of service projects to encourage local seniors and other unsung heroes, and wanted to share their gratitude with another service organization. CMMC and the 3D mammogram equipment came to mind, and they invited Medical Center Foundation (CMF) Manager Ann Tuss to give a presentation to learn more.

After learning about the 3D Mammo equipment and campaign, the kids came up with the Knots 4 Life project; personally tying and knotting the paracord bracelets and selling them for $5 each. The bracelets are a variety of colors, including pink in honor of breast cancer survivors.

The older Club members are also making one of a kind paracord bracelets (inspired by an idea of a Club Board Member Nancy Puckett) and those will be on an auction site for bid. “We are hoping that we knock the $500 goal out of the park!”

Abby added, “One of the coolest break-aways from the happenings is that Club kids went home and told moms to go get their mammograms! In fact, I even got mine scheduled as a result of all of the conversation!”

Ann said she was impressed by the interest and enthusiasm of Club members. “I spoke to the fourth and fifth graders and they asked such great questions. As I drove home afterwards, I just kept thinking, ‘Wow! They get how important this is!’”

For more information on how to purchase a Knots 4 Life bracelet, call Boys and Girls Club at 406.535.2257.

Fergus Electric offering Lineman Scholarship through CMF

Fergus Electric Cooperative is looking to make a lofty dream come true for a student seeking for a career as a lineman by offering a $3,000 scholarship through a fund they set up with Central Montana Foundation (CMF).

Fergus Electric set up the scholarship permanent endowment with CMF a few months ago, and are seeking applicants who will be attending an accredited line technician school.

Upon successful completion of line technician school, which is typically about a six-month program, the successful scholarship recipient will receive another $3,000 payment from Fergus Electric Cooperative. Fergus Electric Cooperative’s Janine Rife Didier said, “Our hope is that after certification the apprentice lineman will have an opportunity to find work in Montana.”

Fergus Electric Cooperative Manager Carson Sweeney said a career as a lineman provides a great wage, benefits and retirement for the right person – one who is brave and isn’t afraid of heights! “A lineman needs to have a teamwork mentality and realize that they will be working on energized power lines.”

Dale Rikala, who is Fergus Electric’s Line Superintendent, has a career that has spanned nearly 36 years. “It’s very rewarding,” he said, explaining that being able to restore power during all kinds of inclement weather is a great feeling. “We know that what we do is making a difference and we take pride in our workmanship.”

Fergus Electric has been awarding this lineman scholarship for some time, but decided it made sense to offer it through CMF and the Central Montana Scholarship Clearinghouse. CMF administers 50+ scholarship endowments awarding more than $250,000 annually to Central Montana students attending vocational schools, college and university.

To access the scholarship and a required supplement go to <http://www.lewistown.k12.mt.us/5/Home>; click on Guidance/Scholarships then choose “College Form.” Applicants must also submit the “Fergus Electric Supplement” found on this page. Check the box for “Fergus Electric Lineman” scholarship on Page 1 of the application. The deadline to apply is April 15.

For more information on applying for the Fergus Electric Lineman Scholarship with CMF, call CMF Executive Director Carrie Mantooth at 406.538.6130.

Quilts donated for 3D Mammo raffle

CMMC RN Barb Berg and Lewistown’s Sew Pieceful have donated two beautiful, handmade quilts to raffle for CMMC’s 3D Mammography Capital Campaign. The first quilt raffle closes April 15.

The quilts are on display in the main lobby at CMMC or can be viewed on CMMC’s Facebook page or www.cmmc.health. Tickets can be purchased through Paypal at <https://www.cmmc.health/foundation/3d-mammo-quilt-raffle/> or by calling Medical Center Foundation Manager Ann Tuss at 406.535.6309, atuss@cmmccares.com or Linda White at CMMC, lwhite@cmmccares.com.

Eric & Sherry Silberhorn establish Donor Advised Fund with CMF

Central Montana Foundation (CMF) Board of Directors added Donor Advised Funds (DAF) to its philanthropy toolbox a few years ago, and are pleased to welcome Sherry and Eric Silberhorn DAF to the list.

The Silberhorns set up their DAF in late 2020, and wasted no time in recommending grants to 14 Central Montana non-profits before the year's end.

Although much of their giving is targeted for local organizations, there are causes beyond Central Montana whose missions they support through their DAF. Having that capability was one factor in their decision to establish a DAF.

Another consideration for the couple is the tax benefits. DAFs have become a popular philanthropic tool, as individuals, families or organizations can establish a DAF with an initial tax-deductible contribution to a 501(c)3 charity like CMF, then recommend grants to qualified nonprofits or tax-exempt organizations over time.

"I really like knowing that this money is set aside and we can recommend grants from it when we see needs arise," Sherry said. "Whenever we've had a request, it was handled quickly by CMF and it's working very well for us."

The couple both have roots in Lewistown and returned here in 2004 after living in Billings and Helena for 27 years.

Eric moved to Lewistown with his family (parents George and Gladys) in 1968 when he was sixteen. He graduated from Fergus High in 1970, then served with the U.S. Army in Vietnam. After he left the service, he went to a vo-tech school in Missoula to learn welding, then spent 19 years working as a machinist and foreman for a machine shop in Billings and later as a hydraulic shop foreman in Helena.

He and Sherry returned to Billings in 1996 where they started their own machine shop, S & S Machine, Inc. In 2002 they sold the company to their employees, and then bought American Leak Detection of Montana.

For the next 14 years, Eric traveled throughout Montana and adjoining states locating underground water leaks for municipalities, businesses, and individuals. In 2016 he and Sherry sold this business and retired.

Sherry grew up in Lewistown, the daughter of Wally and Helen Otto. Her first job was as a "box boy" at Buttrey Foods, with a claim to fame she was the first girl hired by a Buttrey store for that position!

She began dating Eric while she was a junior at

Sherry and Eric Silberhorn

Fergus High. Following her graduation in 1974 she went to a vo-tech school in Missoula for computer operations, then the couple married the following year.

Sherry began her professional career with Hanto & Berres CPAs in Lewistown. After she and Eric moved to Billings, she decided to work in the banking industry. She spent most of her banking career in operations and regulatory compliance with First Bank system, and enjoyed traveling throughout Montana training bank employees.

She left banking in 1996 to become the office manager for their new Billings machine shop. When they returned to Lewistown in 2004, she finished out her career at the DNRC's water rights office.

Sherry participated in a service program while at the bank in Billings which helped the elderly with odd jobs. "For some reason my heart just went out to those folks," she said. "They typically were barely scraping by on a Social Security income." The bank also teamed with other First Bank businesses and started a program that brought speakers to junior high students to show the importance of making good (versus bad) choices in life.

Sherry said these experiences awakened her to the needs of others; especially the elderly, the disabled, and at-risk children.

The Silberhorns have long supported rescue missions across the state and U.S., and have focused some of their local giving on Your Neighbor Cares of Central Montana. "We love working with Cheryll Tuss and Your Neighbor Cares, and being able to provide help right away to people in our community," Sherry said.

Sherry talked about her deep faith in God, and said for years she had prayed for the ability to be able to do more to help those in need. "Be careful what you pray for," Sherry said with a smile, "It took a while, but that prayer was answered!"

The Silberhorns said they had the opportunity last year to make a decision with their investments that freed them to become more philanthropic, and in that they are finding great joy and satisfaction. ❖

Gibson-Durbin families set up scholarship fund with CMF

Helping students explore career options is part of Karen Durbin's every day work life as a counselor at Fergus High School, and she well understands the importance that scholarships have in helping them achieve their educational goals.

She and her husband, Kerby, have long discussed their desire to set up a scholarship fund. "We don't have any children of our own and we wanted to do something to give back to our community." When Karen received stock shares that were gifted by her parents, the timing was right for the couple to establish a scholarship fund.

The Gibson-Durbin Family Scholarship will provide a scholarship for a FHS graduating senior pursuing a Family and Consumer Science (FACS), business or school counselor degree, or to a student attending a trade program, with preference for electrical.

Karen will retire from FHS at the end of the school year after a 36-year career in education. After earning her bachelor's in Home Economics Education and business, she accepted a position in Moore in 1986 and to her surprise, ended up staying 17 years. In the meantime, she added counseling credentials. She took the position as the FACS instructor at FHS in 2002 and moved into the counselor position five years ago.

Her parents, Wayne and Leona Gibson, emphasized to their three children the value of education. Both were farm kids who graduated from Montana State College (now MSU). Wayne worked as an extension agent before going back to school for his master's, then moved into a long career with 1st Security Bank in Bozeman. Leona (who died in 2014), was a stay-at-home mom, then worked with Mutual Rural Insurance of Gallatin County. The Gibsons were both active in clubs and organizations and emphasized volunteerism.

"Dad is thrilled that we set up this scholarship," Karen said. She explained that her parents desire was to provide something for their three children, with the caveat that they support worthy causes. "They wanted a portion of their trust to go to something we care about; we chose education."

Kerby grew up in Lewistown and retired a few years ago after a 44-year career in the electrical industry. "I believe it's all about opportunities and my opportunity came when Frank and Billie Hanzel hired me and got me into the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers (IBEW) apprenticeship program," Kerby said.

He was on the road for 16 years as an electrician, working across the northwest before taking a position at Fergus Electric Cooperative for another 26 years. He emphasized that the trades are a fantastic career opportunity; providing great pay and benefits, and for which there is a high demand.

The Gibson-Durbin Family Scholarship is in a permanent endowment with CMF, where the principal will remain untouched and the income used to fund the scholarship into perpetuity.

Being able to help students through scholarships is a dream come true for the Durbins. In her work as FHS counselor, Karen has seen how scholarships can literally be the deciding factor in whether a student can obtain a higher education through college or a trade school.

"It's our wish to work with CMF in developing scholarships that will sustain several students through collegiate, trade programs or apprenticeships," Kerby explained. For more information on CMF's Scholarship program, call CMF Executive Director Carrie Mantooth at 406.538.6130.

Julie Kalin Memorial Scholarship will help student in healthcare

Julie Kalin's life began in 1958 in Birmingham, England, and ended far from her childhood home in Las Vegas in 2019, after losing a valiant battle against cancer.

Her husband, Ken Kalin, recently established the Julie Kalin Memorial Scholarship with Central Montana Foundation (CMF), which will be awarded annually to a student in Fergus County pursuing a medical-related career.

Ken is a native of Lewistown and graduated from Fergus High School in 1975.

Julie's life was marked by adventure and passionate pursuit of her many interests. She worked as a fashion model and dancer in her younger years, and lived in London, Paris, Spain and Japan. Her next adventure was as a dancer for a cruise line in the Caribbean, which eventually led to a move to Las Vegas in 1981. It was there that she met Ken when they worked together in a Las Vegas show. They married in 1984.

Julie Kalin was a talented artist and enjoyed the pursuit of many interests during her 61-year life.

Julie attended dental hygiene school and Ken said she enjoyed her co-workers and patients. "She was liked by everybody and she was a very caring person."

Julie had a great love of learning and a passion for the arts. Her artistry included fused glass, oil and water painting. She was also a lover of music, and was self-taught on piano and guitar.

She loved horseback riding as a child in England, so was thrilled to have her own horse later in life.

She also loved their dogs. Ken said, "She was never happier than walking along a beach with me and many of the beloved dogs we had over the years."

Ken said, "I always wanted to do something for Lewistown and think this scholarship will be a good way to do that."

For more information on this and other scholarships, call CMF at 406.538.6130.

A Gift to Improve Life in Central Montana

A gift to Central Montana Foundation (CMF) helps improve life in Central Montana. CMF holds a long list of permanent endowments for local non-profit organizations, scholarships, pass through accounts, the Central Montana Medical Center Foundation (MCF) and community endowments. (See the list of funds on the following page.) You can give online through EZ-Gift using a credit card, or ACH withdrawal from a checking or savings account by going to www.centralmontanafoundation.com under the "Give a Gift" tab. Please consider setting up a recurring gift for your favorite cause! Or, return this form with your donation.

- To give to a CMF Permanent Endowment or Pass Through Account, return this form to Central Montana Foundation, PO Box 334, Lewistown, MT 59457
- To give to a Medical Center Foundation Fund, return this form to Medical Center Foundation, 408 Wendell Ave., Lewistown, MT 59457
- To give to a Community Endowment Fund, return this form to the contact person for that fund listed on Page 6.
