

CMMC Cancer Center Campaign

CMMC in partnership with The Leona M. and Harry B. Helmsley Charitable Trust will be bringing to Central Montana a state-of-the-art cancer center with medical oncology, radiation oncology, infusions, CT simulator and a linear accelerator.

“There was a time I might have questioned whether this made sense. Having gone through two battles with cancer, I can tell you this cancer center is incredibly important for future cancer patients and their families and also for the economy of Central Montana. To be able to access diagnosis and treatment of cancer in Lewistown instead of having to travel repeatedly to Billings, Great Falls or other cancer centers would truly be a Godsend. My wife and I are grateful that CMMC leadership and staff are taking on this important effort, and we hope people in Central Montana will support it.”

-Dave Byerly
Cancer Survivor

The Helmsley Cancer Center will bring comprehensive cancer care to Central Montana.

One In 3 of us will be diagnosed with cancer in our lifetime.

Cancer affects all of us!

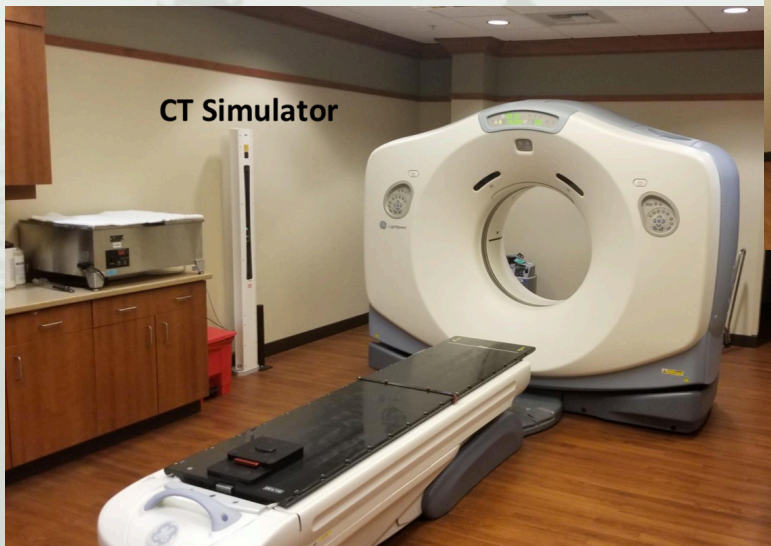

Annually our friends, our family, neighbors travel 165,000 miles for cancer care. 165,000 miles equals 647 times across the state. The Cancer Center will keep them safe, close to home.

“ My kids did not know what was going to happen to Mom, so I drove back and forth for my cancer treatments so that I could be home each night to comfort my kids. This Cancer Center makes me so happy. I would not understand the need if I hadn’t just experienced the exhausting task of balancing work, mom, wife and cancer patient - but now I am beyond passionate to make this project a reality so others can be at home for their cancer care.”

“ It would have meant the world to be able to be there with Dad. To hold his hand and support him emotionally through all the ups and downs, good news and bad news over the past years. Me working and him being treated out of town, kept me from being there when I felt like he needed me the most...and not just him, my mom too. She does it all on her own. If he was able to be treated here, I could help her and him.”

Since the Central Montana Medical Center (CMMC) was incorporated in 1969 – the facility, staff, equipment, and services have grown to meet the needs of our Central Montana community. Each year CMMC serves our area through important services ranging from Hospice and Home Health to the Emergency Room, Clinic Services to Physical Therapy, just to name a few.

These important services are provided, and the growth of the hospital, is due to YOU. You are the community who loves and invests in this important asset, our hospital.

Central Montana Medical Center is working to provide much-needed additional services to the Central Montana community by building a high-quality, comprehensive Cancer Center.

Through collaboration with the Billings Clinic Cancer Center, patients in Central Montana will soon have access to services presently only available in larger communities, including clinical trials and participation in national research with access to the latest treatments.

The Helmsley Charitable Trust, which has a particular interest in rural healthcare, sees cancer care as a significant need in Central Montana. To demonstrate their commitment to improving healthcare in rural communities, they have given a $9 million dollar gift to CMMC to help build a Cancer Center. The Medical Center Foundation has committed to raising $2 million and the CMMC Governing Board has committed to financing $2 million. Project costs are estimated to be $16.5 million, leaving a funding gap of $3.5 million.

While this funding gap presents a true challenge, CMMC is focused to continue on exploring funding options to make this dream a reality.

The community has voiced repetitively through surveys and public forums that cancer care is needed in Central Montana. CMMC is determined to not leave any stone unturned in achieving this goal.

The time is now to build a Cancer Center to keep our loved ones comfortable and safe at home, now and for generations to come, while they fight and defeat cancer.
